

Filevia

Traditional Distillery producing liqueurs & flavoured wine

Our History

The beginning of the creation of our family business, Filevia, was our wandering in unique traditional liqueur flavors, made by housekeepers in the wider region of Evia, from fresh fruit and fragrant plants, bringing childhood memories to our mind.

Our searching and our imagination gave us the idea to inculcate our production with all this wealth of knowledge through flavorful explorations, always in a traditional manner, of liqueurs from fruits of our region and from special fragrant plants and our unique Chokeberry Wine.

With lots of enthusiasm and love we began this beautiful and tasteful journey, discovering and utilizing local fruit and plant production, firstly from our own production of new dynamic crops, such as chokeberry, but also with selective collaborations with producers who farm their land with care.

The derivation of the name Filevia mixes the simple meaning of the words Filos (Friend), Filoxenos (Hospitable), Filema (Treat) with our beautiful island of Evia, a blessed land with a wide and diversified production and natural environment contrasts.

Chokeberry: The "miracle" of nature!

The blackfruit Chokeberry (Aronia Melanocarpa) is a deciduous bush with height that reaches up to 3m., blossoms from mid-May and its fruit matures by the end of summer.

It comes from Northeastern America and the cultivation of the plant in Europe began after World War II.

Chokeberry is at the top spots in the international scale of pharmaceutical plants.

Its content in anthocyanines is among the highest in comparison to every known plant. The chokeberry fruit is rich in tannins, anthocyanins and polyphenols. These natural ingredients of the plant have beneficial qualities against oxidant stress, which causes cardiovascular conditions, removes heavy metals from your system and lowers the amount of blood clots.

The content of the chokeberry fruit in flavonoids, natural anti-oxidants, vitamin P, is among the highest of all fruits, while it is also a source of pro-vitamin A and vitamins B2, B6, B9, C, E and K.

Chokeberry contains 277 anti-oxidants, more than any other fruit of the "berry" category, citrus and vegetables tested in the ORAC scale.

Considering that anti-oxidants are a basic ingredient regarding cancer prevention and tumor decrease, chokeberry provides natural strong protection and eases intense pain (Kedziersk et al., 2010) while improving cholesterol levels and decreases the levels of lipids, helping the system produce "good" cholesterol (Morosanu et al., 2011).
